“ Scotty, the youngest of the 7 kids. When you were born, I never wanted to leave our house on Tacoma to be with friends. I just stayed home and took care of you like you were my own. Well, Mom put a stop to that after a little while and forced me to go out and make friends. You were always there when I needed you. I'm am missing you but I know you are at peace and in no pain, surrounded by all your family and friends gone before you. I will see you soon. Love you.
