“ Dear Marie, Marty and Susan and Families,

Mom, Paul and I extend our deepest condolences to you all and remember you in our prayers for God's comforting presence to carry you through this heartbreaking loss. Your Mom was a beautiful lady and I will miss her lovely presence and keen interest in me and my family. Aunt Stella was a most thoughtful Auntie, always remembering me with cards as a godchild of Uncle Cass and on to adulthood. I will never forget her kindnesses and remember how she enjoyed being with those she loved.

On New Years Eve, Paul took me, my Moma Millie, and Aunt Stella out to lunch in honor of Uncle Cass' birthday. We had a wonderful time together, lifting a glass of wine to his memory; and we spoke of her and Mom possibly being centenarians. She looked at me narrowly (as she did when she could be quite serious) shaking her head and said, "I don't think so...". Of course, I didn't want to hear that. But, now that she has passed, I realize that perhaps she suspected it wouldn't be so and was preparing her heart to be able to let go of life. I hope that that reflection brings you the comfort that it brings to me.

Our hearts grieve with your dear family--she was a very special blessing!

Susan, Marie, Marty, and grandchildren. We will really miss having your Mom and Dad as next door neighbors for the past twenty years. What a joy watching the two of them. Your Mom took care of her flowers like a new mother with a newborn. Their yard always looked so beautiful. The flowers were like a picture book. The strength of character your Mom and Dad lived is truly a fine example for our young ones. Cass for many summers would talk and play over the backyard fence with our grandchildren Emma and Michael, especially Emma. Even since Cass has been gone, Stella carried on with such strong will. We will never have more neighbors like them. We pray God will cover your grief with the fond memories of your dear Mom and Dad. May God's unfailing Love surround your entire family. With sadness in our hearts, Bruce, Linda, Shari, Emma, and Michael.
