“ Dear Sue and Family,

As I returned to work yesterday after a leave....I was sharing with leadership about reaching out to Sue....and informed of the saddening and heartbreaking news.

Sending Love, Strength, Prayers and my deepest condolences to the family❤️

Sue was an amazing inspiration to me. I first met Sue 8 years ago as she managed the Case Management Team at HFH-WB.

Sue, I loved your presence and calm from the first time I saw you. We had small random conversations through our journey and then I decided to call you one day for inspiration.....I loved our talk that day, the way you shared your life and experiences openly and the guidance and responses you provided to my questions for my future plansthe connection and the talk was so open and genuine and heartfelt and was so appreciated❤️

You will truly be missed and I feel blessed to have crossed paths with such a beautiful soul on this journey. 🙏❤️

*With deepest sympathy and love,

“ Sue was such an outstanding professional and a thoughtful, kind & quietly compassionate human being! We worked together over more than a decade on projects such as advanced care directives with faith based organizations, the Recuperative Housing Center during Covid and, most recently, strategies re: diabetes and self-management education. Sue and I also attended a Christmas cantata where Nancy Combs sang. The amazing thing about Sue was that if she was sitting in a meeting, I was always confident that she would ensure that nothing irregular occurred. With her quiet demeanor, she would speak up to ensure that people were treated and work was managed fairly and justly! She will be sorely missed! And, she will never be forgotten! May the family find comfort in the rich memories and loving legacy that she has left!

“ Words can’t adequately describe Sue’s leadership and the profound impact she had on her staff, colleagues, and the countless lives she touched throughout her career.

I’ve had the honor of having Sue as my leader for the past six years, and during that time, she became so much more than a leader, I considered her a mentor and friend. She was a friend who listened, an advocate who fought for what was right, a mentor who guided with wisdom, and a teacher who never stopped sharing her knowledge.

Sue had a rare ability to see the best in people and bring it out. She challenged us to grow, supported us when we struggled, and celebrated our successes as if they were her own. Her leadership wasn’t just about managing a team—it was about building a community where everyone felt valued and empowered.

Sue will be sorely missed, but never forgotten.

“ Sue was an amazing leader, mentor and friend. She became my leader during a reorganization and though it was a challenging transition, she met every headwind with grace. She was always available, exceptionally patient and extraordinarily skilled at navigating the difficult spaces. She lead with kindness and transparency above all and I will forever be grateful to her. Anything she could do to help, she would absolutely do it.

There are truly no words to erase the sorrow but I am hopeful that the legacy she left for all will bring comfort.

She is truly going to be missed □

“ Sue was an incredible leader, a wonderful colleague and good friend for many years at Henry Ford Health. We worked together on the "Final Goodbyes" program to encourage faith leaders to talk to congregants about the importance of Advance Directives for end-of-life planning (which feels painfully ironic to me now). Further, Sue was always so supportive of our administrative fellows' community rotation, mentoring them on at least three projects I can recall including the HFH Family Caregiver Initiative which she launched and led under then-CEO Nancy Schlichting's guidance. I join the host of friends and colleagues who mourn her loss more than words can say, and send deep sympathy and constant prayer for her beloved family. - Nancy Combs, HFH retiree
