

Susan Anne Realmuto

June 27, 1947 - June 27, 2021

Susan Anne Realmuto, age 74 of St. Clair Shores, passed away on June 27, 2021. Susan was born on June 27, 1947 in Bronx, New York to John and Mary (Lombardo) Leonard. Susan enjoyed cooking, stain glass and British Comedy. Susan is survived by her daughter Elizabeth Dobie, her grandchildren Megan Dobie, James Dobie, Giada Realmuto and her brother Jack Leonard. She was predeceased by her daughter Kathleen Realmuto and her sister Joan Ditty.

Tribute Wall

“ Susan meant the world to me we were like 2 peas in a pod. Fast friends if you will. She brought so much love & sunshine to not only my life but many others as well. What a bright beautiful soul. There wasn't a day that went by I would walk in and you'd be waiting for me with the most excited smile and best of the best shennagins would begin. We laughed sang talked ate played the lotto. She was a great listener a genuine person with a heart of gold but most of all she was my dear friend. She fiercely loved her family and so proud of her grandchildren and often spoke of them she only wished she could have been able to see and be closer to them. I think my favorite quote I learned from her was that "some people don't have the sense god gave a goose" and that 1 quote said it all ! I love you Susan and am proud to call you my friend you will always be on my mind but will forever be in my heart 💚 Fly high my angel till we meet again 💚 Shawn

July 06, 2021 at 12:00 AM

“ Me: see you later alligator Suz: after while crocodile 🐊💜

Material_candle_purple_thumbnail - July 06, 2021 at 12:00 AM

“ Mom...may you find peace. You had a difficult life, yet you did your best for your kids. I will cherish cooking together and the holidays most of all.

Material_candle_white_thumbnail - July 05, 2021 at 12:00 AM