“ Ron, You are in my thoughts and prayers. I pray the Holy Spirit brings peace, perseverance, and renewed faith. I know Suzanne is with her Lord celebrating now, and in our time of earthly loss, I pray you will be comforted. I always respected the strong faith you and Suzanne showed, and your support you both gave me over the years.

I remember one conversation with Suzanne, she had given me a little bit of money to help me with college, and mentioned that I was in her prayers as I studied to become a teacher. Another time right after my dad went to heaven, she told me how happy she was that I would still be able to continue my education and not have to leave college, and that I was in her prayers. I always loved seeing you both in church and Suzanne (and you) have been great witnesses of your faith in Jesus. God's blessings to you Ron.

Love,
Charlie

“ When someone we love dies it breaks our hearts. We try to accept it as a part of life as we struggle to move on without them in our lives. Fortunately, our loving Creator has promised that soon such events as death will no longer haunt mankind and separate us from those we love. Jehovah God has promised to destroy death (Isaiah 25:8) and to restore our loved ones to us who have died by means of a resurrection (John 5: 28, 29) May these Bible truths bring comfort and reassurance to your hearts that you can see your loved one again. My deepest sympathy to you.
