“ We have known Syd for many many years. Rod and Syd have been lifelong friends to us. Many memories over the years. Syd was always the more quiet one to Rods outgoing personality. She was a very caring individual. Family came first. Was always fun to see her at parties and get togethers. We imagine the big party now that she is reunited with her love. For all of you -- take comfort in the arms of those people you hold closest to your hearts. Our deepest caring.
