“ Seems weird the first time I was introduced to “The Dog Catcher” I never really thought he would be the actual dog catcher. He seemed much too kind and nice to be a mean, cranky dog catcher. However Tom was the total opposite of mean and cranky. “The Dog Catcher” was one of the sweetest, funniest and genuine people I ever got to meet. We’re talking about a man who would bring me soup from his favorite restaurant when I was sick because “it will cure you”. Tom was a do it all kind of man, he was a builder when you needed new siding, painter of ~everyone’s~ living rooms, pest control man when you had a skunk problem, mechanic when your POS jeep broke every time and a driver who could spin the wheels off any school bus to name a few. Tom was there, always down for anything. A smile on his face, a pack of smokes in his pocket- life was always good. We spent quite a few holidays together- deer camp included. Anyone who visited him at his home, knew the typical goodbye at his house was at least a 45 minute process and he would walk you to your car-regardless of time or BAD weather. “I’m just gonna check the mail”. It’s 11 PM Tom... Because of Tom and his “connections” to literally EVERYONE in this world, he help bless me with my first Jeep. Thanks for that Tom, I needed some kind of weird jeep girl identity at that time in my life. Tom LOVED his family, his friends and his dog. There was not one thing he wouldn’t do for any of them. He was a true friend to everyone in his life. I was really blessed and thankful to have known him. Our world will be a little quieter now without him but I believe Drew, Boon and The Dog Catcher are back together again. Really gonna miss you!

“ Tommy was one of our greatest childhood family memories. Never forget the friendship, kindness, love, generosity and caring for life and people. One of our earthly angels. Jesus took one of our good earthlings.
