“ I met Tom almost some 25 years ago in the early “80’s”, we worked together at Denny’s Restaurant. His personality was unique ( What I mean is: he seemed very outgoing, a very vocal person) Tom’s response, no matter what was happening, or how he felt, or how he was doing was always a very enthusiastic, energetic “SUPER”. It almost drove everybody who knew him kinda nuts or on edge after awhile, then it grew on you, and I (we) really learned to love the man behind the “Super” phrase. Soon everybody adopted Tom’s catch phrase and even when Tom wasn’t there there was a lot of “SUPER” saying happening. I have caught myself on more than one occasion responding “Super” when I was asked how I was. Even in the more recent past years (though I really didn’t see him that often) Tom’s response to his well being was mainly “ I’m good” and more importantly to Tom, “ How are you doing”.

It must have been that generous, and kind nature that compelled me and Sue’s brother Mark (who also worked with us at Denny’s) to introduce Tom to Sue. Obviously Sue could not resist his charm as they have two beautiful children (Brian and Lauren) and almost 18 years of marriage to prove it.

Tom had an appetite, when we worked together @ Denny’s Tom always had room for any cooking mistakes. Sometimes I think he made mistakes on purpose just so he could eat. Funny thing though, with Tom was he could eat and eat and never gain a pound. Tom was particularly fond of deserts, he loved a good chocolate cake. He looked forward to birthday celebrations at our house because he knew there would be chocolate cake involved. I know I will miss, and fondly remember Tom with my next piece of chocolate cake.##imported-begin##David##imported-end##
