“ For some reason I felt compelled to look at the obituaries this morning and was very saddened to read about the passing of Mrs. Gralla. I was a good friend of Ben's during my last two years of high school and his first years of college. We had a group of great friends and shared so many wonderful times. I met Mr. and Mrs. Gralla only once but I still remember it some 40 plus years later. I had typed a term paper for Ben and was invited to stay for dinner. I don't remember the menu that evening, but I do remember feeling the love of family Ben's parents had and how open and welcoming they were to me. My thoughts and prayers are with you this day. My own mother passed away on October 19, 2008 so I know how difficult this day and beyond will be. Keep your memories close to your heart, they will help you go forward. Sincerely, Jeanne Garrett Kerby##imported-begin##Jeanne Garrett Kerby##imported-end##

“ Ben, we are sorry to hear about your mother's passing. She is now in the House of the Lord and will be smiling down at you and her family. I remember meeting her when we went to Lawrence Tech in the late sixties.

Warmly, Ken and Judy##imported-begin##Ken and Judy

“ I feel very lucky to have known both Mr. and Mrs. Gralla. Two finer people would be difficult to find. Each time I came to their home to visit Celeste, I felt so welcomed. Usually Mrs. Gralla was busy cooking or baking something wonderful and Mr. Gralla was working on one of his projects. He was so handy and proud of his work.

On one visit Mrs. Gralla was making plum pierogies. I didn't care for pierogies but Mrs. Gralla insisted on my sitting down to have one. Of course, it was delicious. She would have that determined look on her face and a very cute smile too.

I am making lasagna for my husband's birthday today in one of Mrs. Gralla's lasagna pans. It has been a teary morning for me.

What is making me happy, though, is the thought of Mr. Gralla again having his Veronica with him. He must be so happy.##imported-begin##Sue Rataj##imported-end##
