William, affectionately known as Bill or Billy B was a devoted father, grandfather, great grandfather, and friend. He lived a rich life with passion, talent, and deep love for family. He will be remembered for his vibrant spirit, and the countless memories he created with those closest to him.

Bill loved many sports activities , his favorite being bowling and golf. He was an accomplished bowler, one of the proudest highlights was achieving a perfect 300 game. He wore his ring with pride. In the early days, he participated in “Beat the Champ”, and competed in numerous tournaments alongside close friends who eventually became like family. He also found great joy on the golf course, playing at courses across the United States, always appreciating both the game and the camaraderie it brought.

He had a passion for precision and skill, which extended to shooting handguns in competitions. His sense of adventure and fascination with airplanes led him to serve in the Air National Guard at Selfridge, where he nurtured his love of aviation. A licensed pilot, Bill enjoyed flying, attending air shows, and spending time assembling model airplanes and enjoying computer flight simulators.

A true lover of life’s pleasures, Bill enjoyed good books, relaxing with cocktails and cigars, and sharing laughter with friends and family. As a Career entrepreneur in the Casino Industry, his career allowed him many experiences with frequent travel to Las Vegas, and Atlantic City.

Bill had a remarkable love for music and dance. A modern-day Fred Astaire, he alongside his beloved wife, effortlessly glided across dance floors with their ballroom and disco style of dance, often becoming the highlight of the evening. He also, played and taught the accordion and brought joy to those who shared in the love of music.

Above all, Bill cherished his family. He deeply loved his children, grandchildren, and his beloved wife. After the loss of his wife, his faith and family became his guiding lights. He found comfort in attending Sunday Mass and treasured time spent with cousins over coffee in the rec room. Even as he faced the challenges of dementia later in life, his love for family never faded.

He took great pride in attending his grandchildren's concerts and sporting events, always showing his unwavering support. He delighted in sharing meals with loved ones—especially at cherished gatherings like Polenta parties—and found happiness simply in being surrounded by his growing family.

Bill Brusokas leaves behind a legacy of love, strength, and joyful living. He will be deeply missed and forever remembered by all who had the privilege of knowing him.

“ JT here. First time I ever did this Face Book stuff. Mr. B use to call me the 3 o'clock knock because I used to show up at the house most weekends at 3am totally wasted. Mr. B never got angry for waking him, never gave me a lecture for being stoned and never threw me out for stumbling around his house. He just cooked me an amazing breakfast and I'd eat it while I talked and he would listen. Then I'd pass out on the couch and eat breakfast again with Brusokas clan the next morning with a bad hangover. Looking back, I think it was his way of keeping me there, safe, not going to jail for driving while "blind" or smashing into somebody. Lots of great memories at the Brusokas house. More than this website could handle. RIP Mr. B. Thanks for putting up with me and my antics. Thanks for looking out for me. Thanks for having my back. JT
