“ We will always remember Uncle Bill's sweet smile. He was one of a kind. When Lauren was a little girl she loved it when he talked like Donald Duck. He was kind and generous. He opened his heart and home to friends & family and even strangers that he soon called friends. He and Aunt Catherine watched Lauren when she was a little girl. There wasn't a time when they said no. Love filled their home. I recall he loved bowling and playing cards and a cold beer. The Accivatti picnics were full of love & laughter with Aunt Catherine and Uncle Billy. Loretta shares her condolences today along with Lauren, Dante and Chuckie who said he remembers when he lived with them when he was young. He felt safe and loved beyond measure. Laura took great care of both of her Mom and Dad. We will be thinking of you and Danny as you go through these coming days. Your parents always loved each other and adored you kids more than life itself! May their memories fill your hearts today & always. Keep throwing those strikes Billy. Finally at 🕊️ if you listen closely, you will hear bells ringing as another angel received it's wings when Billy passed on. Love to all, Colette Russell

“ I remember Bill doing his Donald Duck voice for me when I was a kid, and then I was remembering him doing the voice for Donald Duck for my kids, their faces would light up and always got a good gigglehe was a good, good man!

“ Uncle Bill was a very special person. He loved his family so much. When ever we would have a family reunion he would always amaze the kids and make them laugh with his Donald duck voice saying put it there and reaching out to shake their little hand. That is the way I'll always remember him. ❤️

Yes. I must ditto what Laura said. Uncle Bill was such a sweetheart. He was always soft spoken with a twinkle in his eye. His Donald Duck impersonation was spot on, and always brought a smile and amazement in the eyes of children and adults alike. I'm told he was still entertaining the nurses at the hospital almost until the end. He will truly be missed and forever remembered. United again with his beloved Catherine. ❤️

I know Bill was a good bowler as I would run into him at the bowling alley. RIP Bill
